Subject: Joint Financial Management Improvement Program --
Donald L. Scantlebury Memorial Awards

The Joint Financial Management Improvement Program (JFMIP) is seeking nominations for the 1985 annual Donald L. Scantlebury Memorial Awards. These are the only awards sponsored by the Federal Government which specifically recognize exceptional and distinguished leadership in governmental financial management. The Department of the Treasury chairs the JFMIP and views these awards as an opportunity to recognize executives in your organization who have excelled in financial management.

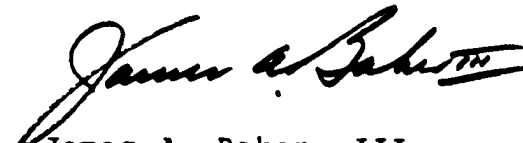

The awards provide you with the opportunity to acknowledge senior financial management executives who, through outstanding and continuous leadership, have been principally responsible for significant economies, efficiencies and improvements in the public service. Last year, the JFMIP recognized Mr. Clyde Jeffcoat, Principal Deputy Commander of the U.S. Army Finance and Accounting Center, and Mr. Earle E. Morris, Jr., Comptroller General for the State of South Carolina.

The JFMIP is accepting nominations, which should conform to the criteria and format in the attached brochure. Four copies of each nomination should be submitted to:

Awards Committee
Joint Financial Management Improvement Program
666 11th Street, N. W. - Suite 705
Washington, D. C. 20001

All nominations must be received by JFMIP before January 10, 1986. Engraved plaques will be presented to those selected for awards at JFMIP's Annual Financial Management Conference in March 1986, in Washington, D. C.

We look forward to receiving your nominations.

James A. Baker, III
